

SUBRACE

AZERBLOOD DWARF

As an azerblood, you are locked in a constant struggle between worlds—that of your ancient dwarven lineage, and that of your relentless elemental cousins. Your brethren, the azers, are now truly beings of pure elemental fire, but you belong to a rare line of dwarves who escaped the Plane of Fire before their blazing corruption could fully take hold of them.

When you are angry, your hair becomes hot to the touch, and in sunlight your skin shines with a brassy glow, often leading you to be ostracized by your dwarven relatives. Even still, your natural affinity for fire drives you to a life of adventure as you kindle your inner flame.

AZERBLOOD TRAITS

In addition to the racial traits common to all dwarves, you inherit certain abilities from your elemental kin.

Ability Score Increase. Your Strength score increases by 1.

SPECTRE CREATIONS RUNE BOOK!

This race option will be featured in the upcoming 5e book: Caliya's Chronicle of Runes. Check out more art previews at www.spectrecreations.com/runes and sign-up to get notified when the Kickstarter goes LIVE!

Extra Language. You can speak, read, and write Ignan.

Heat Weapon. As a bonus action, you can cause one metal melee weapon you are holding to ignite for 1 minute. For the duration, the weapon sheds bright light in a 10-foot radius and dim light for an additional 10 feet. When you hit a creature with the flaming weapon, the target takes extra fire damage equal to half your proficiency bonus (rounded down).

Once you use this trait, you can't use it again until you finish a long rest.

Volcanic Resistance. You have resistance to fire damage.
